SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DISCOVERING AND SHARING KNOWLEDGE
TO ADVANCE HEALTH

The University of California, Davis, School of Medicine is part of a nationally recognized, highly collaborative health system that excels in translating scientific discoveries and new technology into improved patient care and community health.

Based in centrally located Sacramento, Calif., the UC Davis School of Medicine is seeking talented health and basic sciences faculty to join an innovative environment infused with team learning, team research and team patient care. Academic positions are available at all levels in clinical and basic science departments with research, teaching, and/or clinical responsibilities in five academic series.

To learn more about the exciting opportunities UC Davis has to offer, please visit http://provost.ucdavis.edu/cfusion/emppost/search.cfm

The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong commitment to achieving diversity in its faculty and staff.
